» Extreme Speed. Extreme Insight.

Company Background

Exegy, Inc. provides the world's leading trading organizations with the fastest, most functional ticker plant on the market: the Exegy Ticker Plant.

Exegy can offer the ground-breaking Exegy Ticker Plant because of its unique patented ultra-low latency technology, which:

» uses reconfigurable hardware and software to process data at record speeds, providing customers with the insight to make quicker decisions and the ability to act on them faster;
» processes significantly more data faster and requires less space and IT oversight, thereby reducing the cost of ownership;
» provides customers the competitive advantage of hardware acceleration when processing proprietary analytics.

Not Just a Ticker Plant

Exegy's ground-breaking product, the Exegy Ticker Plant, offers incomparable capabilities and speed, giving customers a competitive advantage and path to greater success.

The Exegy Ticker Plant is not just a ticker plant. It provides all the functionality of a traditional ticker plant with unprecedented speed and throughput: millions of exchange messages per second with latency as low as 2µs. The Exegy Ticker Plant also provides:

» the first hardware-accelerated order book, which provides a rich and custom set of book views for market depth and liquidity analysis;
» the first hardware-accelerated basket/index calculation engine, which allows up to 1,000 unique portfolios with each list containing up to several thousand components.

Exegy Professional Services

Exegy Professional Services offers custom solutions containing unique configurations of hardware and software for inclusion in third-party products. Exegy Professional Services supports the integration of legacy software and third party applications in the Exegy Ticker Plant to deliver custom solutions.
